In preparation for the 1 January 2020 phase in of using 0.10% and 0.50% Sulphur content fuel oils, ships will have to clean bunker tanks which had previously stored High Sulphur Fuel Oil. INTERTANKO's ISTEK and Environmental Committees suggested INTERTANKO issues guidance for proper recording of these operations. This is the result of those discussions.

The following entries may be recorded as corresponding to the possible actions.

However, in observing this guidance, ship operators should always consult their Flag Administration for their consent.

I) Cleaning of waste solid (de-mucking)

Bunker tank is dry, all liquid fuel was removed. The solid residues are manually collected by the crew and stored for disposal in drums. This operation should be treated as Engine Room operational waste with relevant entry in GRB Part I Category F – Operational waste until disposed to garbage reception facility ashore or burn in ships incinerator. No entries are made in Oil Record Book.

II) Cleaning of Cargo Tanks of Bunker Barges

Guidance for recording the cleaning of cargo tanks of bunker barges that were used for HSFO and dedicated in the future for 0.50% Sulphur content fuel.

Such recordings may be also required by ship operators to check if cargo tanks have been cleaned for the use of storing 0.50% or 0.10% Sulphur content fuels.

Cleaning operation of cargo tanks of the bunker barges (transferred manually or by pump) should be recorded in ORB Part II, Code G Cleaning of cargo tanks

In accordance with regulations 13.5.1 and 13.5.2 of MARPOL Annex II, such chemical can only be discharged at sea by underwater discharge or the wash water be delivered to a reception facility.
